City Puts On Tour For Medal Winner

DETROIT —(AP)—Korean war hero Sgt. Einar Ingman was con-jointed today the motor city's hos-pitality can't be beat—once they know you're in town.

The medal of honor winner came here from Washington yester-day for what he thought was to be a big reception. He was on his way back to Percy Jones army hospital in Battle Creek for further treatment of his battle wounds. The Tomahawk, Wis., soldier had just received his medal at a White House cere-mony.

The 21-year-old sergeant said he had received an unsigned tele-gram telling him Detroit was all set to greet him.

Detroit officials knew nothing of a party here and had to do some last minute rushing.

But they put it over. Ingman was taken on a whirlwind tour of the motor city. The Disabled Vet-erans of America escorted him to lunch at the Veterans Memorial building and various city dig-nitaries extended greetings.

Goes To Ball Game

Further, he was a guest last night at the Detroit Tigers-Cleve-land Indians baseball game at Briggs stadium.

Ingman said he enjoyed his Detroit sidetrip. The police escort through busy streets was a high-light, he said.

"I've never ran through so many red lights in my life," he said.

Iran Prepares To Run Refinery

Hague Compromise Plan Denounced

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP) — Iran pushed forward today with plans to take over the billion-dollar prop-erty of the Anglo-Iranian oil com-pany, following violent street demonstrations against a compro-mise suggested by the interna-tional court.

Shouting "death to Anglo-American imperialism" and "death to the Hague court," bicycle brig-ades of 10,000 young Communists roared through the city last night protesting the court's ruling that Iran suspend its nationalization laws. About 100 persons were in-jured.

The court recommended that a five-man board of two Britons, two Iranians and one neutral su-pervise activities until a compro-mise could be worked out.

Premier Mohammed Mossad-deh's government denounced the court's decision and said it had no jurisdiction over the dispute be-tween Iran and the British-con-trolled company.

A government spokesman said Iranian oil commissioners hope to start control of the giant oil re-finery at Abadan in two weeks and then move into the Khuzistan oil fields. A British embassy spokesman said Iranian rejection of the court proposals would make withdrawal of British technicians inevitable. Observers feel such a withdrawal would bring about a collapse of the oil industry here since there are few Iranians to take over the skilled jobs.

British Army Needs Lift Of Red Coats, Daily Mail Believes

LONDON —(AP)—The Daily Mail said today Britain's spirits would get a lift, if red coats were restor-ed to all regiments of the British army.

In a front page editorial the newspaper said British battledress —"whatever its virtues in the field —is about the most inspiring costume ever devised for a sol-dier."

Only King George's brigade of guards now wears the traditional red coats.

Truman Foreign Policy Dictated By Fear Of Russia, GOP Charges

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON —(AP)—A pro-posed Republican report on the MacArthur ouster charges that the Truman administration has allowed its foreign policies to be "dictated by fear of Russia."

The document, prepared by a three-man staff under direction of Senator Cain (R-Wash.), cir-culated today among GOP sen-ators. It urged that the United States take a "positive" stand and prepare to make the necessary sacrifices to defend the free world against Communism.

"Needless Bloodshed"

Senate members who have seen it said the document accuses the Truman administration of failing to give consistent support to the Chinese Nationalists and to blame the fall of China to the Communists largely on the Yalta agreements.

Reviewing Far East policies since 1944, together with the April 11 removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Pacific commander, the draft was represented as saying also that:

1. A delay in tightening an eco-nomic blockade on Red China caused "needless bloodshed" among American troops fighting in Korea.

2. U. S. Allies have failed to realize their own vital interests in Korea are involved and have not

Big Jackson Rally Warms Republicans Up For 1952 Battle

By JACK I. GREEN
JACKSON, Mich. — (AP)—Mich-igan's Republicans warmed up for the big game next year and cele-brated the GOP's 97th birthday yesterday with party, speech-es, food, and a buzz of political gossip.

Out of them rally that today "we witness the same kind of compromise with moral issues, the same encroachments of fed-eral powers, and the same men-ace to freedom on another front."

He said this time the danger is to American economic freedom, contending that political freedoms will be worthless if the right of economic freedom is turned over to governmental bureaucracy.

Dirksen said that in 56 years

Gangster Girl Gets Bad News

Virginia Hill Tosses Punches And Weeps

DENVER —(AP)—More bad news awaited red-haired Virginia Hill today as she flew homeward after a day of alternately tossing punch-es at reporters and tearfully tel-ling them that all she wants is "or-dinary life."

For good measure, investigators for the Denver district attorney detained the ontime girl friend of gangsters briefly.

At Spokane, her home was seized by the federal government for alleged non-payment of $161,000 in back income taxes.

Her plans to visit friends in El Paso, Tex., were ruined when re-porters learned of her presence in the border city. She tossed a shoe at one, slapped another and board-ed a plane for Denver, enroute to Spokane.

At Denver, investigator Al De-cedro and Lawrence Stone were waiting with reporters and photog-raphers. She took a half swing at Stone when he flashed his badge, and he grabbed her arm.

"I thought you were one of those reporters," she said, apologetically.

"Don't you know I could arrest you for that?" said Stone.

"Go ahead," replied Miss Hill. "Everybody can arrest me." She flared up at reporters, said, "I'd shoot you if I had a gun," and burst into tears as she drove off with the investigators.

NEW YORK —(AP)—An Amer-ican broadcasting company cor-respondent says Russia is "prepar-ing for a full-scale invasion of Iran."

The correspondent, Ray Brock, reported to his New York office from Ankara, Turkey, last night that Russian soldiers "conduct al-most nightly forays" across the northern Iran border to test Iran-ian defenses.

Michigan GOP Set For Battle Of Propaganda

Governor Has Wily Press Agent

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING —(AP)—The Republi-cans are clearing their decks for a propaganda battle with the Demo-crats leading to Michigan's 1952 elections—and the G. O. P. has a long way to catch up.

In a sense it will be a battle be-tween two men: Paul Weber, gov-ernor Williams' astute press sec-retary, and Arnold J. Levin, for-mer Detroit News reporter who was recently hired by the Republi-can state central committee to put its best foot forward or, at least make it look like the best foot.

Weber Is Smooth

Once upon a time public offi-cials and political parties sought to give their doings and sayings an air of the impromptu, the atmos-phere of always saying and doing the right thing at the right time by a form of inspiration.

But now the hidden hand of the press agent at the typewriter be-hind these great men has become so noticeable that there is no use trying to fool anyone. Politicians and political parties need press agents, have press agents and

Pink Millionaire In Federal Jail

Vanderbilt Protects Fugitive U. S. Reds

NEW YORK — (AP) — Million-aire Frederick Vanderbilt Field, bail fund trustee for the 11 con-victed Communist leaders, had his own bail problem today as he languished in a federal jail cell.

Field was sentenced to 90 days Thursday when he refused to tell a federal judge who put up $80,000 bail for four fugitive Com-munist leaders.

His application for bond was granted too late yesterday for at-torneys to arrange his release, and he spent last night in the federal detention headquarters here. The weekend holiday may cause new delays.

Field is a great-great grandson of financial-empire builder Com-modore Cornelius Vanderbilt. The government says Field has regis-tered as an agent representing Red Chinese financial interests.

A federal judge in Washington acquitted Field last March of a contempt of Congress citation for refusing to tell a Senate commit-tee whether he had ever been a Communist.

He is married to the former wife of a Montreal chemist, convicted in the Canadian atomic spy case.

Two Fake Detroit Mail Holdup, Steal $2,200

DETROIT —(AP)—A mail truck driver and an unemployed meat cutter admitted today faking a holdup to steal $2,200 from the mails, postoffice inspectors re-ported.

Held in the plot were Gayle Roote, 18, Ralph E. Russell, 23, both of suburban Royal Oak. In-spectors said they will be ar-raigned in federal court here Monday on charges of robbery.

"We decided right then he was lying," inspector Earl Wheeler said.

Roote broke under questioning today and admitted he and Rus-sell faked the robbery. The money was recovered at Russell's home.

Spare Tire Returns To New Automobiles

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The spare tire for new cars has just about quit its disappearing act.

Manly Fleischmann, head of the National Production Administra-tion, said yesterday the spare tire-ban will be lifted next week "be-cause of an improvement in the rubber situation and a reduction in passenger car production."

The ban went into effect April 2.

Dockhands Idle In Mine Strike

No Solution Sighted In Ishpeming Tieup

MARQUETTE, Mich. —(AP)—Fifty dockhands today were idled as the effects of the six-day strike of 3,000 Cleveland Cliffs iron ore miners spread.

The dockhands were laid off yesterday when ships of the strike bound company exhausted the stockpile of Marquette range ore in pockets here.

The Cleveland Cliffs Co. has cancelled its daily schedule of ore carriers loaded here. The com-pany averaged two to three ships a day.

Meanwhile negotiations contin-ued at Ishpeming for settlement of the strike affecting 13 of the Cleveland Cliffs mines.

Federal Mediator John Luecke said the company and the CIO-United Steelworkers Union, repre-senting the miners were still far apart on terms.

Yesterday the company charged the union with "refusing to coop-erate in enforcing the necessary no smoking underground safety rule."

The walkout started in protest over discharge of a worker who was discovered smoking under-ground.

Cultural Activities Of United States Halted In Hungary

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States informed Hungary today that, in response to a de-mand of last Monday, it will dis-continue its cultural activities in that Communist nation.

This development is an out-growth of the recent trial of Arch-bishop Groesz. Charges of work-ing against the Communist regime were made against American leg-ation officials in that case. The Hungarian government demanded the recall of three officials and the closing down of the U. S. li-brary and motion picture and musical activities.

The Hungarian government charged those activities were "or-gans camouflaging acts of espion-age and subversive activity."

Ferries Take 24,721 Vehicles At Straits Over Long Week End

LANSING — (AP) —Straits Fer-ries carried 24,721 vehicles during the long weekend prior to the Fourth of July, the state highway department reported today.

The weekend covered from the Friday before the Fourth until Tuesday, the day before the holi-day. There was very little traf-fic on the Fourth itself, the depart-ment said, as most of the travellers had reached their destinations by the holiday.

The total was an increase of six per cent over the same period last year.

Conference Set For Sunday At Ancient Capital

Excitement Sweeps U. S. Headquarters

(By The Associated Press)
Representatives of the Chinese and North Korean Red command-ers presumably were winding their way today down the bomb-rutted road to the ancient capital of Kaesong for preliminary cease-fire talks tomorrow with three colonels from U. N. commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's head-quarters.

Temporary Truce Possible

Tomorrow Korean time will be sometime this evening in the U. S.

An air of holiday excitement swept through U. S. Eighth army headquarters as last minute pre-para-tions were made for the talks which will lead to final armistice negotiations next Tuesday.

Observers felt that little would be settled at tomorrow's talks other than a possible temporary truce during the peace negotiations and the details of how and where the talks will be conducted.

Although an expectant lull had settled over the war-torn penin-sula, there were several minor skir-mishes between troops on the ground. The U. N. Air Force was out again bombing enemy rail in-stallations and big Navy guns once again set the North Korean port of Wonsan ablaze.

Bombers Avoid Road

The biggest action was on the central front north of the 38th parallel, where a 1,000-man Com-munist force drove U. N. troops back to their own lines. The Chinese suffered 350 casualties.

All allied planes were ordered to stay clear of the road from the North Korean capital of Pyong-yang to Kaesong as one of the pre-cautionary measures to assure the Red emissaries safe conduct. A five-mile area around the desert-ed and rubble ancient city was declared a neutral zone. Kaesong was the first city to fall when the North Koreans drove into South Korea in their initial attack June 25, 1950, a little more than a year ago.

Wreck Of B-29 Aerial Tanker In Scotland Kills 11 U. S. Airmen

PRESTWICK, Scotland — (AP)— A U. S. Air Force B-29 aerial tanker crashed and burned in a mist-shrouded valley 40 miles from here, apparently killing the 11 crewmen aboard.

Nine bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the huge four-engined plane, which had been converted to a tanker used for in-flight re-fuelling.

Headquarters of the U. S. Third Air Force at Ruislip, on the out-skirts of London, said the crashed plane was based at Lakenheath, England.

The plane and its crew were in the United Kingdom for 90-day training under the strategic air command's rotation training plan. At the time of the crash the plane was on a navigational training flight.

Reds Demand Money From Chinese Abroad With Torture Threats

WASHINGTON —(P)—The state department radio said today that Red China is demanding large sums of money from Chinese abroad, with threats to torture or kill their families at home.

An estimated ten million Chi-nese live in the Philippines, Bur-ma, Thailand, Malaya and else-where in southeast Asia.

"Within recent weeks, Chinese (Swatow) merchants and manu-facturers in Hong Kong have been receiving urgent telegrams from their families on the Chinese mainland," a broadcast by the Voice of America said. "These telegrams demand large sums to meet Communist 'land reform' ob-ligations."

Taxpayers Blackmailed

"And these overseas Chinese have been informed, that if the money is not forthcoming their aged mothers or other members of their families in China will be tortured or killed," the voice said.

It added: "In Singapore, the leaders of the Chinese community have re-ceived threatening letters from Communist authorities in Kwan-tung province in south China. The letters order them to pay new

Congress Watching Korea For Cue To Vote On Controls

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House took time-out today in its consideration of economic con-trols legislation. Many members looked to the forthcoming truce talks in Korea for a possible clue on how to vote.

The actual voting starts Mon-day, with a crucial test due in mid-week on a move to prohibit price rollbacks during the one year for which it is proposed to keep the defense production act in operation.

Spending May Let Up
It became increasingly ap-parent, however, that if next week's peace talks bring about an end to the fighting in Korea, there will be strong sentiment to junk con-trols on prices and wages.

Members advocating an end to controls in that event claim the resulting decrease in defense spending will curb inflationary trends and automatically keep prices and wages from rising further.

Republican leaders are consid-ering making the proposed con-trols conditional in any event, provided they can agree on how to do that.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), senior Republican on the banking com-mittee, told newsmen he has not abandoned his theory that direct controls are not necessary at this time.

He said he favors making the direct controls effective only if so-called indirect controls fail. He said the indirect controls he has in mind include a tightening of credit by raising federal reserve interest rates and increasing bank reserve requirements.

Pressure Goes On
Administration leaders trying to meet President Truman's re-quest for a stronger bill than that passed by the Senate and that proposed by the House Banking committee hope for an assist from the consuming public before the voting starts.

Between now and the middle of next week, they believe, mail and telegrams will start hitting Capitol Hill as a result of telegrams sent out yesterday by William Boyle, Democratic national committee chairman.

The Boyle telegram, sent to National committee members and to state chairmen and vice-chair-men, urged the recipients to stir up a campaign for "strong price control legislation."

Rear Admiral Whitney Retires

Started His Naval Career In Escanaba

Rintoul Thomas Whitney retired July 1 from the U. S. Navy, with the rank of rear admiral, for physical disability. He was one of the few who reached the high ranks without the advantages of being a Naval Academy graduate.

He was first commissioned in 1912 as an Ensign in the Michigan Naval Militia, which was organized in his home city, Escanaba, Mich. Ensign Whitney was ordered to duty at the beginning of World War I and became a naval reservist, was given command of the second regiment at the Great Lakes Naval station for training purposes. Later he was ordered to sea as a watch officer on the U. S. S. Leviathan.

In 1921 Ensign Whitney was one of 1200 given a commission in the regular Navy and ordered to Turkish waters for duty, thus starting a long career of 38 years of duty, 22 of which were sea and foreign service. He served on both coasts of the U. S., Panama, South America, Hawaiian Islands and the Philippine Islands. During his South American cruise, he served under General Pershing while the controversy between Peru and Chile over Tacna-Arica was in progress.

Captured by Japanese
At the outbreak of World War M. Lt. Commander Whitney was administrative officer of the Navy Yard, Cavite, P. I. His wife, Stellanor Whitney, daughter of Zoe Joyce and son, Richard were among the last families to leave Manila for the U. S. via Australia on the Monterey. On December 10, 1941 Commander Whitney was wounded during the bombardment by the Japanese, receiving the Purple Heart and a Navy Cross for heroism. In January 1942 he was taken as a prisoner of war by the Japanese and spent over three years as such; was released by forces under General MacArthur from Bilid prison, Manila, P. I. on 4 February 1945. He was returned to the U. S. in poor physical condition due to long imprisonment, but due to the good care given him by the Navy and the urge to get to sea spurred him on to regain his health. He was given command first of the hospital ship "U. S. S. Comfort" and then later, a transport which took him back to The Western Pacific, Philippines, Japan and Korea.

In 1947 Captain Whitney was ordered to shore at Pasadena, California as inspector-instructor of Naval Reserves. At the time a considerable controversy was going on over the site of the Naval Reserve Training Station, but through his efforts and by good public relations he was able to receive the cooperation of officials and citizens of Pasadena, and obtained a site for the Naval Reserve Training Center in Pasadena, which is one of the finest in the U. S. After completion of the establishment of the Naval Reserves there, in 1949 he was ordered to the Naval Examining Board, attached to the Secretary of the Navy's office in Washington, D. C.

From Sec'y Matthews
Upon retirement Rear Admiral Whitney received a commendable letter for his long devotion to duty, from Francis P. Matthews, Secretary of the Navy, a part of which is quoted herewith:

"On the occasion of your retirement I wish to convey my personal thanks to you, and on behalf of this country which you have so devotedly served and in the name of the President of the United States, the thanks of the grateful citizens of this country. The Navy Cross which you were awarded for your heroism during the bombardment of the Navy Yard, Cavite, Philippine Islands, by Japanese planes, December 1941, is ample proof of the extremely valuable service which you have rendered to the Navy and the Nation.

"During the past two years as Secretary of the Navy I have learned something of what you have learned over the past thirty years. What I lack in years of service, I ASSURE YOU, I make up in devotion to the Navy. I have learned the deep meaning of the word "shipmate", and I have the deepest respect and admiration for the officers of the Navy with whom I have been associated. I can, therefore, well appreciate and share the feelings of one who is about to say "adieu".

"I wish you Godspeed and sunny hours to enjoy the blessings of this country which you so richly deserve.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Francis P. Matthews."

It is expected that Rear Admiral Whitney and his family will leave the Washington area soon for the West Coast to make their permanent home.

OWAA Meeting Ends Tonight

Mackinac Island Visited By Writers

The national convention of the Outdoor Writers Association of America, which opened last Saturday, will come to a close tonight with a farewell dinner at the House of Ludington.

Prizes will be awarded at tonight's meeting to the writers who competed in the fishing contest. J. Hammond Brown, president of the OWAA, will preside.

Yesterday, the OWAA members and their families went in two Greyhound buses and private automobiles to Mackinac Island, where they went on carriage tours and attended a luncheon at the Grand Hotel.

Frequent rains marred the fishing for the outdoor writers, but some of them were successful in catching lake trout, walleye and northern pike, rainbow, brown and brook trout, and bass. The Michigan Conservation department and Wolverine Conservation club furnished transportation and guides to the fishing streams and lakes.

Urge Dairy Farmers Raise Own Heifers

To get good cows, raise your own dairy heifers, Delta county farmers were advised today by J. L. Heiman, county agriculture agent.

He cites information received from C. J. Little, Upper Peninsula extension livestock specialist for Michigan State College. Breeding to a proven sire, he emphasizes is important. Chances of ever building a good herd of dairy cows are exceedingly limited if you attempt to buy them.

Beef bulls are sometimes used on dairy cows to produce calves for the veal market. Such producers, however, will not build good dairy herds. The use of a beef or scrub bull can easily destroy a good dairy breeding program, Little states.

Purchasing cow replacements instead of raising them is justified and sometimes necessary, but it is usually more expensive and seldom builds a good dairy herd because other farmers are unwilling to sell their good cows.

To be successful, Little says, you must have profitable cows—profitable because they are disease-free and high producers that cost you less because you breed and raised them yourself from good stock.

Two More Fined On Firecracker Charges

Two more Escanaba residents paid fines of $5 and costs of $3 each on charges of shooting firecrackers on July 4. They are Donald McLaughlin, 806 So. 16th street, and James Gasman, 206 No. 19th street. Both were arraigned in justice court yesterday and entered pleas of guilty.

McLaughlin was charged with shooting firecrackers at Ludington Park on July 4 and Gasman was arrested for throwing lighted firecrackers out of an automobile on the same day.

Several more persons were ticketed last night exploding firecrackers. Those who are 17 years of age or older will be arraigned in justice court.

July Rainfall 'a Big Splash

One Week Total Tops Month's Normal

Escanaba this first week in July has had more rainfall than is normal for the entire month, according to U. S. Weather Bureau records.

S. E. Decker, meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau in Escanaba, said the July normal is 3.33 inches—and that to 10 a. m. today a total of 3.47 inches has already been recorded.

One-third or more of the week's total rainfall came since last night. The precipitation since midnight to 10 a. m. today totaled 1.43 inches.

Rainfall in July last year also was above normal, total of 5.20 inches falling during that month at Escanaba.

The increasing precipitation trend apparently marks a pattern that will continue through this month.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's long range general forecast for the region indicates July weather will continue slightly cooler than normal and considerably wetter than normal—with precipitation 25 to 50 per cent above normal.

As Decker pointed out, however, nature is adequately upholding the area's reputation for clear and sparkling water.

Driver Not Liable For Auto Accidents On Private Property

LANSING — (AP) — An attorney general's ruling held yesterday that drivers can not be held financially responsible under state statute for accidents occurring on private property.

The driver or owner still can be held responsible and legally liable for damages or injuries occurring during accidents on private property under common law, however.

Attorney General Frank G. Millard ruled that the wording of state statute providing for responsibility was such "that the act should apply only to motor vehicles operating on the public highways."

"It was not the purpose of the statute to extend its application to the operation of motor vehicles in private property," the opinion said.

Circuit Court Jury To Report July 16

The jury for the July term of Delta county circuit court will not report until July 16, it was announced today by County Clerk Mary Constantineau.

Judge Glenn W. Jackson informed the clerk that some of the lawyers are scheduled to attend a legal institute to be held July 12 and 13 at King's Gateway, Land O'Lakes. For that reason the jury will not report until July 9, as scheduled, however, with chancery and other cases being heard.

Poison Yam Is New Cortisone Source; Wonder Drug Cheaper

NEW YORK — (AP)—A Mexico City firm says a poisonous yam is a new source for cortisone, the wonder drug. The discovery may bring an eventual price drop in the drug, the company adds.

Maker of the new cortisone is Syntex, Inc., of Mexico City, producers of steroids, the basic substances in many kinds of hormones, cortisone is a hormone of the adrenal glands.

Syntex announced its product yesterday. It said the new cortisone is made from a poisonous Mexican yam. All cortisone now on the market is made from ox bile.

Research on the yams, Syntex said, showed they produced all the male and female sex hormones plus a few others.

The yams, whose botanical name is discorea, grow wild in Southern Mexico.

Syntex said that yam cortisone would cost about the same as the ox bile product. But it added that the yam way is simpler and that costs are likely to drop as production increases.

Two years ago, cortisone sold to doctors for $200 a gram. Merck & Company now markets the drug for $30 a gram.

Welding such metals as aluminum and copper without the use of hot flames or electric arc is possible with a new cold pressure process. It can be used with many non-ferrous metals.

Barbershop Concert Planned Aug. 19

Four Men Get Medal Of Honor

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman today presented the nation's highest military decoration, the medal of honor, to four army infantry men. Solemnly, he said it is soldiers like them who will enable this country to win the cold war and keep the peace.

The little ceremony was in the sun-warmed White House rose garden.

With wives and parents looking on, and with America's highest military leaders standing at attention, Mr. Truman hung the blue ribboned decoration around the neck of each Korean veteran.

Always when an emergency calls for it, the president said, heroic Americans come forward in the numbers that are needed.

To each medal winner, Mr. Truman—an old artillery man—murmured that he would rather have this decoration than be president. He recalled having said this to many another medal of honor winner, and commented:

"I don't think very many of them believe me, but it is true."

Of the 27 army men who have earned the awards, only seven have survived to accept the decoration in person.

All of the four receiving the medals today were wounded. They are Linar H. Ingman, 21-year-old infantryman from Tomahawk, Wis., Master Sgt. Stanley T. Adams of Olathe, Kans., Capt. Raymond Harvey of Pasadena, Calif., and Capt. Lewis L. Millett of South Dartmouth, Mass.

Each fought their battles with courage and ferocity—with bayonets, rifle fire, grenades and hand-to-hand clubbing of fanatic Red soldiers.

Motorists will benefit by a new automobile windshield glass that reduces road glare and heat. It is a glass of excellent optical qualities, which is tinted a slight bluish-green in color, and has a graduated shading above the eye level.

and a tasty lunch was served. Mrs. Bonifas had as her guests, Mrs. Judith Strom of Chicago, Mrs. Ellen Groleau, Mrs. Wilbert Groleau, Mrs. Harvey Freytag and Mrs. Leo Martin of Detroit, Mrs. Kent Ellis of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. Harvey Sundin, Mrs. Arvid Sundin jr. and Mrs. John Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farrell of Chicago arrived this week to spend their vacation at the home of Mrs. Farrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Turan.

Supervised Playgrounds Will Open In Escanaba On Monday

ESCANABA playgrounds will be officially opened Monday and although the playground program has been curtailed from previous years because of reduced funds, the schedule of activities will still be considerable.

Parents are urged to encourage their children to utilize the playground facilities and to participate in the planned activities. The youngsters will be pleasantly entertained in clean, wholesome activities and their parents will know that the children are safe.

Supervised playground activities are

Cease Fire Is Not A Signal To Relax

THE thunder of bombs and the staccato chatter of strafing planes made their own sound effects on North Korean targets while the Chinese and North Korean Reds were broadcasting their willingness to discuss a cease-fire.

"No one has blown a whistle on us yet," said a U. S. Air Force officer, tallying up the results of a busy Sunday.

Nor has anyone blown a whistle on the job America—and the free world—had ahead of it before the Communist aggressors signified they were willing to talk peace.

The Red answer is not a signal to relax, although there is no doubt that the long delay between the answer and the date they set for talks is more than mere Oriental face-saving. The Communists would like us to relax, not just in Korea, but everywhere.

On the home front, the signs of a truce on the horizon are not a signal to take off for the country and go fishing. Peace in Korea would end the shooting war, but it would not end the cold war between the east and west.

We cannot stop building the defenses that are beginning to make America strong again after we found ourselves flabby when the Reds first crossed the 38th parallel. We cannot let up in the work we are doing in free Europe, economically and otherwise, to keep it free and part of the west's power. We cannot blithely forget the beginning of universal military training we have begun to build. Peace in Korea, in fact, should be good reason for completing the UMT structure even faster than we had planned a month ago.

Even before the Peiping radio broadcast the Red acceptance of a parley, there were signs of relaxing in this country. The unwillingness to be realistic about controls against inflation was the most flagrant of these indications. We cannot forget that inflation is as much an enemy as the Chinese Reds who swarmed down from the Manchurian hills.

No one has blown a whistle yet, and there will be cease-work whistle after cease-fire blows. If there is, the Reds will have every reason for the victory they are now claiming in Korea. They will have won a big victory in the long battle the free world has ahead of it.

Field Sentenced For Contempt Of Court

FREDERICK Vanderbilt Field, secretary of the Civil Rights Congress bail fund, has been sentenced to jail for contempt of court in refusing to tell who posted $80,000 bail for four fugitive Communist leaders. Thus, American officials have once again displayed a stern attitude towards those who attempt to shield Communists.

Federal Judge Ryan of New York who sentenced Field to jail pointed out that identities of those who contributed bail for the Communists are needed to help trace the missing men. The four forfeited their bond when they failed to show up for arraignment. The judge's position is a sensible one. The men who provided the bond and accepted the $80,000 loss when the bond was forfeited are the persons most likely to be hiding the fugitives.

It is encouraging to note that the federal government has adopted a policy designed to crush Communist leadership in America. The Communists and their fellow travelers, like Frederick Vanderbilt Field, cry about civil rights and constitutional guarantees but these rights do not include the right to shield criminals.

A Pennsylvania town has a petting patrol. Now the girls must watch out for the arm of the law, too.

The Elusive Worm

By Gordon Martin

Quite elusive are the many things in life for which you search, and sometimes you're sure that Lady Luck has left you in the lurch. And perhaps you think the biggest goal for which you vainly strive, is a rainbow with its pot of gold which keeps your hopes alive. But when comes the fishin' season, then you're ready to affirm, that there's nothing more elusive than the lowly fishin' worm.

Now it's funny how those pesky worms can ready a person's mind, for whenever you would dig them, they are always hard to find. You recall, when spading garden ground, you found them everywhere, and you thought that when you wanted them, they'd sure enough be there. But you dig and dig and none you see, though deeper down you go, and you think you're nearing China and that worms will surely show.

It's about that time your wife arrives upon the digging scene, and she says you've wrecked her garden and her plants so bright and green. So you give it up and wonder why the boy who lives next door, always has some worms to sell, and for a price, can get you more. And you're certain, as you watch them while they wiggle and they squirm, that there's nothing more elusive than a lowly fishin' worm.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Close friends who have talked with General Eisenhower on a strictly personal and confidential basis report the following developments in Ike's political thinking:

1. The general has now conceded that he must run on one party, not on both. This is a change. Some months ago Ike nursed the hope he could carry both conventions.

2. He would prefer to run as a Republican, because he does not want to be saddled with Democratic holdovers, previous errors and Democratic policies. However, he will not make any decision on which party until he knows: (A) the degree of opposition to him in the GOP; and (B) the receptiveness of the Democrats. He would like to hold off this decision as long as possible.

3. Ike has no political organization, and no one is authorized to say he is Eisenhower's political agent.

4. As of today, Ike has enough GOP delegate votes to make an impressive response on the first roll call—upwards of 150 votes.

As is well known, the president and Eisenhower are warm friends, and Truman feels grateful to Ike for many reasons. Mutual friends who have talked to Truman, therefore, believe he has made no decision about running. He has told close friends he will do whatever he thinks will contribute most to world peace. Personally the president does not want to run, and Mrs. Truman is adamantly opposed. If the GOP would nominate Taft and write an isolationist platform, Truman might well nominate Eisenhower.

The president would definitely oppose Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who, for some strange quirk, he does not like. If neither he nor Ike are the Democratic candidates, then the president would probably try to draft Chief Justice Vinson.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The seven billion dollar tax bill passed by the house increases the excise tax on automobiles up to 10 per cent, but leaves a wide-open loophole on taxing yachts. . . A total of 64 American newsmen are now in Iran in expectation of serious trouble. Thats almost as many as we have in Korea. . . General Eisenhower is quite discouraged at the slow progress of French rearmament. He has sent a report to the Pentagon that the French are so busy politicking they've all but forgotten their promise to mobilize 10 new divisions by the end of the year. . . Allied agents behind the Iron Curtain report that the trial of Archbishop Josef Groesz is the first step in a new wave of terror about to be launched against Hungary's Catholics. First the Reds decide they need some scapegoats. Then they pick out their victims and spend several months manufacturing the "evidence." The arrest, the confession and trial then proceed according to schedule. It's just a big game to the Reds. . . The last thing able high commissioner John J. McCloy did when he left Washington for Germany was to inform Secretary Acheson he wants to resign this fall.

ARGENTINE ATOM

Dr. Cornelius J. Bakker, the Dutch physicist who recently visited Argentina for a quick look at Juan Peron's much-publicized "thermonuclear" atomic energy developments, has reported privately to his government that there is indeed something behind all the hullabaloo—something, but not very much, as yet.

Bakker, who inspected the Argentine experimental laboratories on their lake-side hideout and conferred with Dr. Ronald Richter, Austrian-born scientist in charge of the project, made the following observations in his top-secret report to the Dutch authorities who sent him:

1. It is true that Richter has worked out a new and relatively simple method of releasing nuclear energy, based on the thermodynamic principle of solar radiation; 2. Application of the method, in what are known as "controlled-stage experiments," has been accomplished only on a very tiny laboratory scale—and each experiment to date has entirely destroyed, through vaporization, all the equipment used to carry it out;

3. Neither Richter's talents as a physicist nor Argentine technical know-how is of sufficiently high order to suggest that the new system could be developed to a practical level in the near future, or perhaps even, without extensive outside assistance.

The report further stated that dictator Peron had told Bakker that, so long as the glib Gaucho's government got full credit for the method, and all work on it was confined to Argentina, he did not care how many foreigners were brought into the act.

As a result, Holland and Argentina are working on an agreement for joint development of nuclear-energy projects, from which some positive results could develop within two or three years.

New York—For the first time since the World War women are being offered jobs as taxi drivers in New York. ## Letters From Hungary Describe Master Red Plan To Wipe Out Middle Class

BUDAPEST STREET SCENE — RED VERSION: Soviet agency caption on this picture says these are Hungary's Young Pioneers, the growing generation of the "Young People's Democratic Republic of Hungary" marching in Budapest. But letters from Hungary tell of another march on Budapest streets—the march of terror as Reds conduct wholesale deportations and evictions.

By NEA Service

NEW YORK—"A deadly silence reigns in the capital; everybody is petrified waiting for the end."

That is the grim picture of Budapest, Hungary, told in scores of letters from behind the Iron Curtain which have reached the headquarters of Crusade for Freedom in New York.

The letters, scrawled in pen and pencil amid fear and panic, tell of wholesale deportations and evictions being carried out by Red puppet rulers behind the smoke-screen of the trial of Archbishop Joseph Groesz and other Hungarian religious leaders.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, national chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, describes it as part of a master plan to wipe out the middle classes behind the Iron Curtain.

In every instance, the Crusade points out, the letters reveal the victims to be the small shopkeepers, former civil servants, engineers, aristocrats, and members of former landowning families, the aged and ailing, persons on pensions, and others "who can make no contribution to the regime," whether they are Catholic, Jew or Protestant.

"The terrible end is rapidly approaching," one letter began. "On Monday, 12,000 families received orders for immediate deportation. This process has been going on incessantly, and already so many friends have gone away that it is impossible to count them."

The letter said nobody has any money or food because of the fear of unexpected house-searches and sentences of two or three years for possession of four pounds of sugar.

"But all such matters become insignificant in the face of the deportations, from which there is no escape," the letter continued. "No poison is available—Gen. J. B. and his wife succeeded in committing suicide to avoid deportation—but I must confess that I personally do not have sufficient energy even to throw myself into the Danube."

Another writer began: "I am still at home, but who knows for how long? My neighbors, the Vertessys, committed suicide when they got the police order of expulsion at 4 a. m. I understand the morgue is full of bodies of people who put an end to their lives for similar reasons. One woman was arrested because her husband shot himself with a pistol, and the wife did not report they were hiding arms."

In the area of deportation at Szolnok, which one letter called "but the first station on the way to a Russian Auschwitz," a writer said at least 10,000 deportees are living in tents, without water or medical care, and that at least 10 per cent of the aged died on the way.

Emil Nagy, 82, former Minister of Justice, was one of those who died while being deported to Szolnok, according to one of the letters.

"How similar is our fate to the victims of the 1944 deportations," said another letter, hastily scrawled in the midst of packing to leave. And another letter ended this way:

"A deadly silence reigns in the capital. . . People have long ceased to go to tearooms and cafeterias; the streets, too, are empty, since for months past people have been caught in the streets and carried off. . .

"My instinct for life is still alive. I will not commit suicide—mainly because I have no way of doing so."

Eisenhower Opens His HQ, No Bomb Shelters

By MAX WINTER

PARIS—(NEA)—A rolling, 50-acre corner of Marly Forest is now the busy headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This month the new permanent offices of NATO swung into operation and the job of building up Atlantic defenses moved ahead. The site of the headquarters is 10 miles southwest of Paris. The Forest is the private shooting preserve of the French presidents, and now officers and men of the nine NATO nations work where once the deer and the French presidents roamed.

Carved out of the deeply-wooded area is a virtual city, built entirely of prefabricated buildings. There are 21 such structures, including nine office buildings with 60 offices each.

The blueprints were drawn up by French architects from original American plans. Each prefabricated section was made in France. They were put together on the site by 1000 French workmen.

All the workers—both military and civilian—at the Supreme Headquarters of Allied Powers in Europe will live on the grounds. There are mess halls and barracks to house both male and female assistants. There are 25 trunk telephone lines, 600 extensions, 120 cars and about 170 military and civilian secretaries and clerks.

Running the show is Eisenhower and his staff. Eisenhower himself has a simple, conservative double office in Building Four, directly behind the entrance.

There are more than 200 high-ranking officers serving under him. They represent the nine other countries participating in NATO with armed forces.

The average rank of these officers is colonel. They range from a liberal sprinkling of general-type officers, like Eisenhower and his second-in-command, Britain's Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, all the way down to a second lieutenant who runs the mess hall. For their use, there are ample rooms for conferences in each office building.

Personnel of the U. S., Great Britain and France will form an alternating guard for the new headquarters, each taking over protection for a definite period.

An optimistic note in the SHAPE scheme of things to come is the fact that there have been no bomb shelters either built or planned at the site.

The family of 10 or 12 children is the only real kind of family. My word, what we are missing!—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE OPEN LETTER—In today's mail is a letter from P. V. Canthook, Uppertown, Ford River, addressed to the "outdoor folks" here in convention. Mr. Canthook, well known among Uppertown residents is an outdoor writer (the top of his bald head is sunburned) who writes as follows:

"When I was down to the store to get the mail I heard about you writer fellows being in Escanaba. Right always I sez to myself, 'P. V. (thats me) them folks are to your liking', so I comes to town.

"I am just an old river hog that lives in a shack on the Ford River but I am a writer too. Every spring I writes letters to all the seed companys for their free packages of seeds."

SHIPPING TAG—"So as I sez, I dressed me up spruce and comes to Escanaba. I wore my clean stag pants, red checked shirt, and greased my shoesaps shiny with bear grease. I looked tolerable and I walked with a spring even though I be some eighty year.

"Nobody spoke to me as I walked down Ludington street, at least no writer boys but I noticed all the strangers had labels on their chests. I stops in to see Carl Dixon and he told me about them shipping tags. So Carl makes me a calling card too. I ain't no special outdoor writer so he just puts: Friend of Paul Bunyan' over my given name of P. V. Canthook.

"Now I felt beter as I saunters down the main drag of Escanaba. Did I get notice now? Huh, no skunk in a camp's outhouse ever got more! Everybody 'Hiied' me. One bald headed feller stopped me. He said he liked to talk t onatives. He was a columnist or Communist or some such from Detroit. We shook hands heartily. . . anyways I shook his hand and then he shook from my shaking. He commented on my name plate, 'Friend of Paul Bunyan'. 'How come,' he said, 'Paul Bunyan musta been born about 1840, he must be dead long ago!'

PAUL'S AGE—"Well by all the rules of proper figgerin Paul should be 110 years but lissen. . . Us folk in Upper Michigan figgers different. Onct about the turn of the century me en Paul was on the drive on the Ford River. . .

"So being as how it was spring en the logs was shootin down the rapids helter skelter. . . well the logs just naturally got ta arguing with each other and got jammed. The river hogs tried to pry loose the key log but the blame thing would not budge. You know Paul's hot temper. He ran for his broad axe and swung that heavy axe and split that key log from end to end.

The jam broke, Paul's axe slipped and cut off thirty year of Paul's life. So today, as we folks figgers, Paul is some eighty odd.

MICHIGAN BORN—"Then I meets a feller from Minnesota. We was calling each other 'Les' and 'P. V.' real friendly like. But then we got arguifying about Paul Bunyan. He tells me Paul was native to Minnesota.

"If nothing rules me is these folks claiming Paul outside of Upper Michigan. I can prove Paul was born and schooled in Uppertown. My mother was the Indian midwife who came to assist at Paul's birth. . . but he didnt need no assisting.

"The first forty Paul Bunyan cut was one on the Ford River. That was on the day he was born. He used his Pa's double bit and wore out one bit before nightfall on his natal day.

THE INVITATION—"I met lots of nice boys from outside. It is sure nice to meet the Outdoors fellers. They are regular humans. Now if any of you boys is still readin' I'd like to invite you out to Uppertown.

"Ford River was a rip roaring lumber town in the fifties of the last century. Paul Bunyan and his cussin' river hogs lived in Uppertown.

"Ask the way to the ghost town of the early lumbering days. Walk up the old river trail come the evening and chances are that in the mists over the river you will see Paul driving the logs down the rapids.

Yes, P. V. Canthook
Uppertown on the Ford River.

SATURDAY ROUNDUP

Chevelah, Washington: Here is a newspaper cartoon titled: Let he who is without sin cast the first stone." How about it?—M. B.

Answer: Should be: Let him who is without sin, etc. The clause "who is without sin" is a sort of parenthetical explanation and does not affect the case of the prenoun. This is plain if we leave the clause out, thus: Let him. . . cast the first stone. However, the correct wording (John viii, 7) is: He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

Tulsa: Why is Oklahoma called the "Sooner State"?—Mrs. T.

Answer: At 12 o'clock noon on April 22, 1889, nearly two million acres of the Cherokee Outlet were opened to settlement. About 20,000 persons raced to stake their claims. Those who slipped in unlawfully before the "rush" were stigmatized as "sooners."

Tiong: Does the name Mediterranean (sea) have any meaning?—Mrs. I. S. F.

Answer: Yes, Mediterranean is formed from the Latin medius, "middle," plus terra, "land." It expresses the idea of "amid land," that is, inland, or enclosed with land, which is the case with the Mediterranean—it is an inland body of water lying between Europe and Africa.

Give Check List On Unclean Milk

If farmers receive the complaint "sediment in milk," several things may be the cause, says C. J. Little, Upper Peninsula livestock extension specialist for Michigan State College.

County agricultural agent J. L. Heirman has received a check-list of causes of dirty milk.

1. Cows not clean.
2. Milk cans not properly cared for, before and after milking.
3. Milk can lid dropped carelessly or left where it can catch dust or otherwise be contaminated while strainer is on can. Lid should be carefully put in a clean place, free from dust and dirt while you are filtering. A simple holder made of pieces of broomstick is easy to make, costs practically nothing.

4. Failure to rinse strainer thoroughly every time filter disk is changed. For best results, change disk after every can of milk.

5. Filter disk not put in strainer dented at bottom, causing bypass.

6. Milking machine suction cups allowed to get close to floor or bedding where they pick up dirt—or placed on dusty box or shelf when milk is being poured into another container or through the strainer.

7. Milk not poured into strainer properly. Milk should be poured on sides of strainer, not directly on the baffle plate. Pouring milk on sides of strainer allows filter disk to do a better job of filtering the milk.

8. Sediment in the water used for rinsing cans and utensils.

9. Bouncing or jamming of strainer, which is especially bad when strainer has a spring locking ring. It may dislodge the lock-ring and let milk by-pass the filter disk.

10. Single face disks placed in strainer—with the gauze side up, which is wrong. Gauze should be down, cotton up.

School Senior Displays Talent Painting Murals

A hobby, which will undoubtedly turn into a profitable career, is the art work of Nick Prokos, Escanaba high school senior.

With no formal training except grade and high school art work, young Nick has already begun to carve a niche for himself in various branches of art.

Four murals, ten by thirteen feet each, and one four by four foot emblem decorates the entire side of the K. of C. bowling alley in the new K. of C. club at 900 First avenue south.

Sketches Scenes First

Beginning with small sketches, Nick decided to do the four seasons of the year in and around Escanaba. Each small sketch was planned, until the final four were chosen. From these pencil sketches, 19 by 24 inch originals were painted as patterns for the mural. These were done in poster paint.

It took him about a week to complete the sketches, and about a week and a half on the pattern paintings.

After the final okay by Harry Gafner, manager of the K. of C. alleys, Nick began the huge murals. Working after school and in the evenings in his spare time, he completed each mural in about eight to ten hours. From the origin of the idea to the finished murals, Prokos figures actual time spent at two weeks.

Four Seasons Represented

The four scenes were represented with a winter scene from Rock River, spring with the artists' conception of the ore docks and coal docks, summer by a

Michigan Cuts Its Pheasant Raising Plans

North American outdoor writers meeting here this week learned that Michigan, one of the leading pheasant states, has made a large cutback in the artificial raising and releasing of these birds.

The Michigan conservation department now is placing main emphasis on a stepped up wildlife habitat improvement program as the most logical method of maintaining and improving pheasant hunting in Michigan.

According to department figures an estimated 337,000 pheasant hunters shot 797,500 Chinese ringneck pheasants last fall in the lower peninsula ringneck range.

In line with the pheasant policy change, state game specialists are limiting annual game farm production to not more than 5,000 pheasants and ending distribution of eggs to clubs and other co-operators. In the past four years, the state has released an average of 22,000 birds and nearly 60,000 eggs.

Available birds will be reserved for special projects such as field trials, testing results of regular adult releases made in the spring, release to state "game areas" and for catastrophe areas. Continued will be experiments with stock obtained from wild birds and experiments with spring releases of adult birds of Mongolian and Black strains.

Walleye Pike Fishing Sampled By Writers

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Writer

If any one thing contributed most to the decision of the Outdoor Writers Association of America to come to Escanaba for their 1951 convention, it was the walleye fishing.

And well it might, for fishing for this species in the Big and Little Bays de Noc, right in Escanaba's back yard, is a fabulous thing.

The writers, who are closing their week-long meeting this week end, arrived too late for the best fishing, but they sampled enough of it to realize why the bays have recently been rated one of the 10 best fishing spots in the nation.

They were taken out in powerboats to troll pleasantly and leisurely off the rocky shores, their reward was eight and ten pound beauties which will take second place to no other freshwater fish in pleasing the human taste buds.

Cousins To Perch
The fish are cousins to the ordinary yellow perch. Of course, they are much larger, and they have greatly improved on the sweet, fresh flavor of perch.

To add spice to the fishing is the great mystery surrounding what caused it all.

The walleyes have always contained walleyes, but in 1946 something mysterious happened to suddenly begin the skyrocketing of the wal-eye population.

Commercial fishing records show that the 1945 take was a somewhat ordinary 21,000 pounds. But the 1946 take jumped to 72,000 pounds.

Then in 1947 it went crazy, going to 262,000 pounds. It went to 572,000 pounds in the next year and in 1949 an incredible 1,063,000 pounds were hauled in.

What Happened?

At the same time, the sports fishermen quickly caught onto the bonanza, and though there are no such exact figures for their catches it undoubtedly leaped in the same proportion as the commercial catch.

The Michigan Conservation department has gone deeply into a study of what happened to the walleye in the Bays de Noc, but the real cause is still unknown.

It was discovered that the great majority of the fish making up the phenomenal catches of recent years were born in 1943. Something happened in that year, apparently, which allowed an enormously increased survival of the bountiful fingerlings.

But the secret of what that something was is still locked in the cold, copper colored waters of the Big and Little Bays de Noc.

"Faith to Move Mountains"

MAN came to Jesus, saying, "Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatic. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him." Then Jesus rebuked the devil, and the child was cured from that very hour.

Then came the Disciples to Jesus, saying, "Why could not we cast him out?"

And Jesus said to them, "Because of your unbelief: for verily I say to you, if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you."

(Taken from St. Matthew 18, 14-20)

The gown was designed with a mandarin collar, and full skirt of nylon marquisette over tulle. Tiny covered buttons marked the back of the bodice. A pearl stud-secured coronet secured her veil of imported silk illusion.

The traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" were included in her ensemble. Her jewelry was a string of pearls, the bridegroom's gift and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white snapdragons with satin shower ribbons.

Double Ring Service

Her gown of aqua tulle was made with a fitted bodice with back button closing, lace trimmed neckline and a full skirt. She also wore a pearl necklace, the bride's gift, and a Juliet cap of lace and matching gloves completed her costume. She carried pink roses and snapdragons in a colonial arrangement.

Larry J. Pepin was best man for his sister's bridegroom. Ronald Pepin, another brother, and Jack Nelson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

A navy blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of red roses was worn by Mrs. Pepin. The bridegroom's mother was unable to be present because of illness.

A gleaming brass rod comes up through the center of the plates and finishes with a convenient round handle at the top. Two or three plates in various sizes form these delightful trays that can be used to serve snacks of all kinds. I've seen them used for combinations of relishes and sandwiches, candy and nuts, crackers and cheese. Eden's tiered trays have their own build up!

I HAVE something personal to tell you. It's about VP, the new stick deodorant, for a V.I.P. (Very Important Person) YOU. You'll find the convenient stick form of Very Personal so easy to apply. It insures good grooming and personal daintiness all day long, and won't irritate sensitive skin. Greaseless VP dries as it is applied. I know I'm getting very personal, but I hope you're getting Very Personal at Gust Asp's. Just $1.00 plus tax!

THEY say you can always tell an American at a bull fight—he's the only one who cheers for the bull! At the "Bullfighter and the Lady" I'm the one who cheers for Robert Stack. This gorgeous hunk of man plays the lead in a thrilling story that's filled with tremendously fast and thrilling action. A great college athlete (polo, plus All American Skeet Chapman) Robert Stack has had a life time of thrilling adventures, but he says the making of this movie in Mexico tops them all. You'll want to be sure to see this young star in "The Bullfighter and the Lady" with Gilbert Roland and Joy Page at the Delta Theater Sunday and Monday.

ONE man tells me his wife is a thing of beauty and a jaw breaker! Of course she'd leave him alone if he'd only buy her a new Dishmaster! She just can't stop talking about a Dishmaster since she saw one in action at Erickson Millwork. It's the new hose and brush attachment that washes the dishes while you would usually be just stacking and rinsing them. A push button controls the soap suds or clear water. I think this is the newest innovation in dishwashing since Adam set his apple core down on a plate. One teaspoonful of detergent does two days dishes in this amazing gadget. Don't go to see it at Erickson Millwork unless you can buy one—you'll be that unhappy!

TO say things aren't as bad as they're painted is a good thing to tell everyone but the amateur artist! It's downright sinful to live in the beauty of the Upper Peninsula without trying your hand at some sort of painting or sketching! And we're really lucky to have a store like the Office Service Company with an abundance of art supplies. Here you'll find oil and water color paints, paper, canvas and pencils, frames, charcoal, brushes, pencils, sketch pads and textile paints—make OSCO your stopping off place on the way to a new creative experience or an old hobby. They'll appeal to your palette!

WELL, I'm heading for a vacation for a few weeks. You know, you spend 11 months on the rocks for one month on the sand! See you all again in August, and thanks for reading! Love and kisses.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

We doff the Crandall topper today to Morley Fraser, Newberry high school football and track coach who in two years at the Indian high school has become not only a controversial figure in Upper Peninsula sports but a power to be reckoned with in coaching ranks. . . . Fraser's two-year football record at Newberry, undefeated with one tie, is one of the best in the Peninsula without a question. . . . In the past we haven't always agreed with the Newberry mentor (on paper, that is, because we've never met him personally). . . . But we've always recognized his ambitious and successful coaching program.

Yesterday we learned that Fraser turned down a golden opportunity to make a tremendous stride in his chosen profession. . . . He was offered the head football coach's position at Wyandotte high school in suburban Detroit. . . . Fraser refused the opportunity because he feels it would be unethical to break a contract he signed at Newberry last May. . . . He has decided to return to Newberry and coach the Indians until next spring when his present contract expires.

Here's how attractive the Wyandotte position is. . . . The school is located in a community of 48,000 population. . . . It is a class A school with an enrollment of 1,930 students from the ninth to 12th grades. . . . The head coach has a five-man staff at Wyandotte and, among other things, a complete film library of all Wyandotte teams of the past three years and opponents as well. . . . Newberry has a population of about 3,000 with a class B school with 400 enrollment.

Fraser said he couldn't possibly accept the job now. . . . "Newberry and the Upper Peninsula have been very good to me," he said. . . . "The town has taken very good care of my family and me and Newberry has given me in happiness every bit as much as I have given it in coaching. . . . When I leave Newberry, which will be next spring, I want it to be a happy parting for everybody concerned. . . . I don't want to be remembered as the coach who looked out just for himself and left the team in the lurch without a suitable replacement just five weeks before football practice starts."

Whether you agree with Fraser's coaching philosophies or not (and as we said before, we haven't always done so) you'll agree that he has a rigid moral standard that is to be envied.

Gladstone Host To Republic On Sunday

GLADSTONE — The Redskins play at home Sunday for the first time since mid-June and they take on the hapless Republic nine which has failed to win a game in two starts this season.

Republic was one of the two teams which Gladstone defeated for its double win last weekend, but it was a battle all the way before they emerged with a 2-1 victory. Only airtight hurling, plus two timely doubles provided the Redskins with their win.

Close Race

The race for honors in the Upper Peninsula league is close with only a game and a half separating the pace-setters from the cellar. . . . Munising and Marquette, with identical records of two wins and two losses, clash at Marquette while Ishpeming takes on the league leaders.

Milwaukee Wins To Stretch League Lead

(By The Associated Press)

A top performance by pitcher Arnie Johnson gave Milwaukee a 3-2 win over Minneapolis Friday night and allowed the Brewers to edge one half game in front of idle Kansas City.

The Blues' game with St. Paul was postponed because of wet grounds.

Louisville broke a six-game losing streak, splattering Indianapolis 13-5.

Ned Garver Beats White Sox For Third Time This Season, 4 To 1

By JACK HAND

(By The Associated Press)

How about Ned Garver for the American league starter in Tuesday's All-Star game?

If the St. Louis Brownie ace isn't all-star, nobody is. With 11 wins for a last place club he represents exactly 50 per cent of St. Louis' 22 victories. Furthermore, he beats the contenders.

Garver's 4-1 nod over Chicago in the second half of a twilight-night game doubleheader last night was his third over the White Sox this season. It was the second time inside a week he barred the Sox from the American league lead. On July 1 he knocked them out of first place. Last night he kept them from passing New York.

Free Beer, Pop

Bill Veck celebrated the occasion of the Browns' first home game under his ownership with fireworks, free beer and soda and Garver. Ned saved the day for Bill after the Browns had lost the opener to Chicago, 4-3. Chicago's Carrasquel, the Sox' all-star shortstop was spiked in the first game and retired for the night.

Of course, Manager Casey Stengel of the American all-stars may be overly impressed by Boston's Mel Parnell as a starting candidate after last night's doings at Fenway Park. Lefty Mel shut down the Yanks with nine hits, 6-2, while the Red Sox routed Eddie Lopat. Dom DiMaggio's two-run homer and Clyde Vollmer's two-run triple were the chief wreckers.

Still the Yanks clung to the lead by seven percentage points with Boston only one game back and Cleveland a fast-closing fourth on Bobby Feller's 7-4 win over Detroit, his 12th.

The Leaders

Here's the way they stand:

MEL KARKKAINEN, new Escanaba Bear pitcher, will make his first official Tri-County league start tomorrow afternoon at Bark River. The 20-year-old South Range mound ace moved here last week with his new wife and is employed at Harnischfeger. He has an extremely fast ball, mixed up with curves, hooks and slower stuff. Karkkainen has been declared eligible to pitch for the Bears in the second half schedule which begins tomorrow.

St. Thomas still leads the Oldtimers' league but the hard-hitting Claimant Transfer nine is only a half-game behind after handing the league-leaders a convincing defeat last week. The Eagles and St. Joe Boosters are also moving up fast and next week's games provide a real test for these two contenders for the loop title.

The Eagles tangle with Claimant Transfer on Tuesday night at Royce Park and the St. Joe Boosters meet St. Thomas at Memorial Field on Friday evening. The results of these two important contests will go a long way towards determining the league championship.

The complete schedule for next week follows:

Tuesday—St. Thomas vs. Birds Eye at Docks; Eagles vs. Claimant Transfer at Royce Park; Daily Press vs. Delta Frame at No. 3.

Friday—St. Thomas vs. St. Joe at Memorial Field at 7:00; Delta Frame vs. Eagles at Memorial Field at 8:30; Claimant Transfer vs. Birds Eye at Royce Park.

The golf match between Norway and the Highland Golf club scheduled here for tomorrow afternoon was cancelled today because of the heavy early-morning rain.

Two holes are flooded at Highland and the soggy turf would make play impossible.

Karkkainen Will Pitch For Bears At Bark River Sunday In Tri-County League Clash

Out of first place by a forfeit loss to Hermansville at Thursday night's protest meeting, the Escanaba Bears will be gunning for a scalp at Bark River tomorrow afternoon in the feature Tri-County league clash.

The game will mark the opening of the second round in the circuit, with eight games remaining after Sunday. In the first meeting of the teams Escanaba tripped Manager Leo Knaut's club 8-2, for the Bark River team's only defeat of the season.

Manager Phil Brazeau will toss his new hurler, Mel Karkkainen, at the Bark River batters. Karkkainen, who moved here last week from South Range in the Copper Country, was voted eligibility in the league at the protest meeting.

Beat Hermansville

He pitched for the first time for the Bears last Sunday against Hermansville, whipping the Redskins 6-1 on three hits. That was the game which the protest board reversed on a forfeit, declaring the new pitcher ineligible for the game.

Yesterday the new Bear chucker performed for the first time before Escanaba fans and turned in an amazing four-inning relief stint against the Inkster Panthers. Karkkainen faced 14 men and fanned 12, allowing no hits and walking none, although he hit one batter. He fanned three men in each inning.

Karkkainen's main forte is a blazing fast ball but he also showed the colored Panthers a good hook and drop, mixed with

St. Joe Upsets Claimant Team

St. Joe Boosters handed Claimant Transfer its second loss of the season last night at Memorial field, posting a 6-1 Oldtimer softball win.

Stan Brock handcuffed Claimant with two hits while his mates collected seven off George Wise. Leonard Racine caught for the winners, Cully Engstrom for the losers.

Birds Eye toppled the Daily Press team in the other game last night by a 13-9 score with Winky Curtis and Ted Mieski made up the winning battery. Bill Puckelwartz and Rene Sabourin worked for the losers.

The Cubs lead the Waubesa league with three straight wins, but have yet to face Menominee, also undefeated with two wins. The two teams were slated to clash at Menominee last Sunday but wet grounds forced cancellation.

Gladstone will be looking for its first win of the season tomorrow at Menominee. The Gladstone Juniors have lost two.

Bark River travels to Powers in the remaining game.

Hodges came to bat in the first inning. The four-run inning was enough for the Brooks with Carl Erskine turning in a fine relief job over the last 5 1/3 innings. He replaced Clarence Podbielan with the bases full and two out in the fourth, blanking the Phils the rest of the way.

New York, reeling from three straight losses at Brooklyn, came up with four runs in the eighth inning to trip Boston, 12-10 in a wild battle. The teams hit five home runs in the third inning to tie a major league record.

Jim Wilson, who pitched steady ball after relieving Warren Spahn in the third, was belted out in the eighth with Bobby Thomson's two-run single driving in the winning runs.

As a result of Brooklyn's night win, the Giants still trail the Dodgers by 7 1/2 games. The St. Louis Cards, 3-2 winners over Pittsburgh, are close behind, only a half game back of New York.

Wally Westlake, the former Pirate, hit a triple and single to drive in two runs and scored the other one off Murry Dickson.

Cincinnati weathered a ninth-inning Chicago rally that chased winner Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith for a 4-2 edge over Paul Minner.

Gil Hodges, Brooklyn's home-run happy first baseman, continued his attack on Babe Ruth's all-time record as he hit No. 28 off Andy Hansen in a 6-2 win over the Phillies. Hodges now is four games in front of Ruth's 1927 pace.

The Babe didn't hit his 28th until his 79th game the year he set the record of 60. This was Hodges' 75th game, counting one Brooklyn-Boston tie. Last year Hodges didn't hit his 28th until Sept. 19.

Brooklyn routed Russ Meyer, recent one-hit loser, before a change-up that had batters tied in knots.

Good Sticker

The new chucker is also a mean man at the plate. At Hermansville he hit five for five, including a homer. He walked twice in two times up against the Panthers.

Remainder of the Bear lineup will be intact with regulars slated to go in all positions.

Opposing Karkkainen on the Bark River mound will be Ray Menard, young Ferris Institute pitcher who has won eight straight games for Bark River. Menard's control has carried the right-hander through some tough spots this season as his mates have posted a number of one and two-run victories.

Expect Large Crowd

Bark River will also be at full strength for the game tomorrow and the largest crowd of the season is expected.

Third-place Hermansville will be host to Foster City with Mel Sandrin slated for mound duty against Charlevoix.

Perronville, in fourth, travels to Stephenson, Powers goes to Wilson and Daggett is at Wallace in other Sunday league games.

New Bear Hurler Shows Fast One

Stars In Relief Role Yesterday

The Escanaba Bears yesterday unveiled their new secret weapon in the form of Mel Karkkainen to the hometown folks.

If his first appearance is any indication, the new Bear pitcher may have Esqy fans forgetting all about Russ "No-Hit" Hiltonen soon.

The burly right-hander, 20 years old, displayed a smoking fast ball and a fair amount of "stuff" last evening when he made a relief appearance against the Inkster Panthers.

Mel came on in the sixth inning, with the score tied 7-7, incidentally. After a few range-finders, Karkkainen rarely batted and practically blew the first colored batter out of the box with his fast one. He fanned him and the next two men as well.

In the seventh the big-shouldered youngster again set the Panthers down in order, via the strikeout route. In the eighth he fanned three more, with the catcher dropping one third strike to put a Panther on base. Mel hit a batter and one other was put out, shortstop to first, in that inning.

Back in the groove again in the ninth, Mel moved them down one-two-three on strikeouts.

So in four full innings, Karkkainen faced 14 men. He fanned 12 of them, hit one and one was out on an easy infield play.

The traveling Panthers scored seven runs in the third inning off starter Phil Brazeau but were helpless after that. The Bears broke a 7-7 tie with two runs in each of the seventh and eighth innings.

Mackinac Island Folks And Horses Like DDT

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — one sightseeing trip around the island. The corporation owns 165 horses, which take about three trips a day while the 55 carriages take five to six trips. Horses are taken off the carriages as soon as they show signs of tiredness, and are replaced by fresh horses from the pasture.

After the summer season, the horses are taken for wintering on farms operated at Onaway by Archie Getzmeier, barn boss of the corporation. About 225 tons of hay from Pickford and 20 tons of straw are used by the horses during the island season.

Have Own Blacksmith

Mackinac Island Carriage Tours, Inc., now has its own horseshoer, Fred Krepf of Saginaw, who is kept busy during the summer season. Cottagers and natives own about three hundred horses in addition, and most of these animals are serviced by Herbert Benjamin, veteran blacksmith, who was the island's only horseshoer until the corporation hired Krepf last year.

"You learn a lot about human nature on these carriage tours," says Manager Gillespie, who usually can be found in front of the carriage tours office, seeing to it that the public is well served.

"I'm the trouble-shooter," Gillespie said, smiling. "When some folks feeling tired and grouchy, I try to cheer them up. It's surprising how you can change the other fellow's disposition by smiling and talking with them."

Gillespie said many national celebrities have taken carriage rides.

"Just a couple of weeks ago we gave Senator Alex Wiley of Wisconsin a ride," he said.

While on the island, the outdoor writers were taken on a sight-seeing tour to the fort and old Astor fur trading post by W. F. Doyle, chairman of the Mackinac Island park commission. Manager Woodlark of the Grand hotel conducted them on a brief tour of the public rooms of the hotel.

Spray Island Weekly

Mackinac Island was chosen for a fly-eradication campaign by Dow Chemical company several years ago. It was so successful that the islanders wouldn't go without their annual DDT spraying program. More than a $1,000 is spent yearly for DDT to spray the roads, trails and streets, and the expense is shared by the City of Mackinac Island, the carriage tours corporation and the state park commission. Spraying of DDT is done about once a week during the fly season.

Mackinac Island is enjoying a good season this year. It started early on June 1 and will continue until late in September because of additional off-season conventions booked by the Grand hotel, rated as the world's largest summer resort hotel.

Carry Over 100,000

The carriage tours are ever popular with the tourists, and Manager Gillespie predicts the corporation will transport more than 100,000 persons in the old-fashioned horse-drawn vehicles on the wooded trails to points of scenic and historical interest.

Since no automobiles are allowed on the island, transportation is by carriages, bicycles and foot. For more than three-quarters of a century, carriage owners have done a lucrative business, some of whom spend their winters in Florida.

The carriage tours business for years was a series of individual enterprises, with the owners of the carriages and horses joined in a loose-knit association which attempted to set up uniform standards of rates and services.

In 1947, the Mackinac Island Carriage Tours, Inc., was formed, and the 29 carriage owners became stockholders in the corporation. Carl Couchois is president, and Frank McIntyre, who drove on the island for 40 years, is the treasurer and in charge of the corporation's office on the main street, near the ferry dock.

55 Buggies, 165 Horses

The corporation has 55 licensed touring buggies and three taxis, also horse-drawn, and has 80 people on its payroll. It maintains its own carriage shop, where vehicles are repaired and new ones are built under the direction of Art Chambers, corporation secretary, whose grandfather was among the first to drive carriages on the island.

The corporation decided to build its own carriages after getting a $1,500 bid from a custom-built manufacturer in Harrisburg, Pa. The Mackinac Island shop built five last winter at a cost of about $1,000 each, and also saved freight charges from Harrisburg. Automobile tired wheels were used during World War, but now a change is being made back to the regular wheels.

Carriages range in sizes from six to 12 seats. When the 55 are filled, 300 persons are taken on

Wife Of AP Writer Jailed By Czechs Hears Him On Air

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Comely Mrs. Laurabelle Oatis sat dry-eyed and emotionless last night as she listened to a radio recording made at her husband's espionage trial.

"It was William—I could tell it was William from the first word he spoke," she said at the end of the broadcast.

It was the first time in 13 months that Mrs. Oatis had heard her husband's voice. "Just hearing him again in the broadcast gave me hope for looking forward to the day I'll see him again," she said.

"It was the first I have heard from him since his chatty, personal letters stopped coming when he was arrested," Mrs. Oatis added.

Asked about her hopes for a reduced sentence, Mrs. Oatis replied, "I have complete faith that the state department and the Associated Press are doing everything possible to win freedom for William."

Tariff Rates Of 1930 Go Back In Effect

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON WASHINGTON—(AP)—Some of President Truman's congressional critics today applauded his cancellation of tariff reductions for Communist Russia and four of her satellites on goods they ship here.

The state department said the president took the action, which was announced yesterday, at direction of congress.

It recently asked the president to terminate tariff concessions to Russia and other Communist nations when it extended for two years the tariff-cutting authority of the reciprocal trade agreements act.

Congress also banned any aid to nations that aid Russia and Communist satellites as a rider to a recent appropriations measure.

Mr. Truman's cancellation notice means that exports from Russia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Poland will be charged the 1930 tariff rates when they enter the United States. This becomes effective six months from the time of notification.

A long list of other Communist satellites, including Czechoslovakia, Red China, eastern Germany and Berlin also will be hit by higher duties on their exports here.

Thailand Liquidates Navy For Plot To Overthrow Premier

BANGKOK—(AP)—The Thai government yesterday liquidated the Royal Navy for its attempt last week to overthrow Premier Pibulsonggram's regime.

The navy commander-in-chief, Adm. Luang Singu Songgramchai, and most ranking officers were discharged. The admiral and many of the others then were arrested.

Seventy-five per cent of all naval personnel were dropped from the payroll for at least six months.

The navy's abortive coup d'etat, which was suppressed in three days of fighting, cost at least 12 dead and 286 wounded.

Michigan G. O. P. Getting Set For Propaganda Scrap count on them heavily.

The Michigan capitol and surrounding departments have viewed a long parade of press agents, but none so far has been as wily as Weber.

He writes a beautiful speech for the governor, a nice proclamation, a smooth radio talk and a deft newspaper column.

Course All Charted

He is an inexhaustible well of clever ideas for making the governor look right at the right time. And more than that, he possesses the perfect talent in a press agent, the ability to foresee the shoals of bad publicity and have a pleasant course all charted ahead of time against the day when trouble breaks.

This is a tough man to go up against under the best of conditions and the G. O. P.'s Levin has not the best of conditions.

Weber has the advantage of speaking for the governor of Michigan. When the governor opens his mouth and speaks the well-rehearsed lines at a press conference, his pronouncements—bright or silly—are pretty apt to make front pages. Thus the Democrats have a valuable sounding board and the Republicans do not.

In addition, Weber has the advantage of being able to follow a well marked party line. Williams can call in his advisers, thrash out a policy and give Weber the go-sign. Pretty generally the party spokesmen fall into line and sound their little echoes.

No Policy To Follow

But Levin has a much tougher row to hoe.

In the first place he has no No. 1 spokesman. He must scatter his fire among a dozen or more leading Republican figures, almost every one of which has personal ambitions of some sort which mitigate against him being accepted by the party as its spokesman if he speaks too often or too loudly.

Also, and here is the toughest obstacle, Levin has no central party policy to follow and can't get one probably until the G. O. P. can elect a governor.

Whose ideas are to be represented as the ideas of the party? Fred Alger's? John Martin's? Pat Cleary's? Art Summerfield's? Harry Kelly's? Hale Brake's? The precinct organization? The home frontiers? The remnants of the McKay organization? The so-called court house crowd? The legislature?

It is no secret that all of these men and all of these groups react differently to virtually every state issue, that nearly every one has conflicting ideas as to how the party should operate and whom it should support.

Levin must somehow make sense out of this muddle and help steer the party into at least a semblance of unity and action.

He Needs Cooperation

There are indications that some Republicans think they have solved everything by hiring a press agent.

They started out blaming the newspapers because Williams got

Dewey Plans To Visit Battlefront In Korea

TOKYO—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will leave tomorrow for Korea and a two-day visit of the front.

Dewey's visit will coincide with the preliminary cease-fire talks at Kaesong. However, he is not expected to be in that area.

Dewey, now on a tour of the orient, plans to see President Syngman Rhee of the republic of Korea.

The governor today inspected the big U. S. naval base at Yokosuka, then spend the rest of his fourth day in Japan sight-seeing.

Dewey visited U. S. marine wounded at the naval hospital at Yokosuka. He then went aboard the U. S. carrier Princeton and also inspected the heavy cruiser Helena.

Later he went to Kamakura, former capital of Japan, for a look at the Dibutsu of "Big Buddha" in that shrine city.

Governor's Daughter Run Over By Buggy On Mackinac Island

PETOSKEY, Mich.—(AP)—Wendy Williams, five-year-old daughter of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, was treated at Little Traverse hospital here today for injuries suffered in an accident on Mackinac Island yesterday.

The child was rushed here after she was run over by one wheel of a horse-drawn carriage. Hospital attendants said she was not hurt seriously although she suffered painful bruises.

The accident occurred when Wendy crawled under the carriage after a pet cocker spaniel, Torchy. The driver had not seen the child get out of the carriage and started up. A rear wheel ran over the child's back.

Governor and Mrs. Williams, who have been visiting at their summer home on the island, were away at the time.

Soot Storm Sweeps City Of Savannah; Cats Are All Black

SAVANNAH, Ga.—(AP)—This town still resembled a chimney sweep's nightmare today and a lot of folks were ready to bring soot suits.

The only problem for the irate and somewhat grimy citizenry was to find somebody to sue.

Early yesterday the town was blackened by such a severe soot storm that one man chased his pet white cat out of the yard. It had turned black.

One man reported he started to take a bath but concluded he would be cleaner without it.

Still another complained in a telephone call to the Savannah morning news that when he looked in the mirror all he saw was a black stranger.

The oily particles settled over home furnishings, store stocks, pets and people.

Hospitals, hotels and other establishments were confronted with enormous cleaning bills.

Various industrial firms were blamed, but all denied the soot fit.

Helicopter Blades Blow Boat Back To Marooned Swimmers

PENSACOLA, Fla.—(AP)—Wind whipped up by the whirling props of helicopter helped save three men from possible drowning yesterday.

Three men, all navy reservists on active duty at Elliston Field, rowed a small boat out into Escambia Bay and dove into the water for a swim. The boat drifted out of sight. They saw a helicopter and signalled for help.

The helicopter pilot-instructor, R. C. Hamilton, 27, of San Diego, Calif., swung his windmill-like craft to the opposite side of the boat. Wind churned up by the blades blew it back toward the swimmers.

The three thus rescued were Robert Alcove, Jack Rowland and Ronald Adams, all of Ensley, Fla.

Strike Ties Up Ten Hospitals

MINNEAPOLIS—(AP)—Attorneys for ten Minneapolis hospitals argued today in district court here that a walkout of 800 service employees is illegal under a Minnesota law barring strikes in charitable institutions.

The hospitals last night filed the action seeking a temporary restraining order and a ban on picketing and bannering of the hospitals. They claimed pickets have impeded delivery of needed food and drug supplies.

Volunteers, many from socially prominent families, meanwhile continued to augment the hospital staffs, serving where necessary as mop welders and food tray girls to enable the hospitals' continued operation.

Chief complaint of the hospitals in the court action was that truck drivers, scheduled to deliver supplies, refused to cross picket lines set up by the AFL Building Service Employees union, Local 113.

Bread, milk and some other emergency deliveries were made through the picket lines yesterday
